QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Suggested text for faith sharing: Today's Gospel

Adults – Share about a time when life's struggles were so difficult for you that you nearly "threw in the towel." What signs did you see then that God remained with you?

Youth – We are assured that God will be with us as we go through life, so what strategy do you use to keep God in mind as you deal with the ups and downs of life as a young adult?

Children – What is one way you can be close to Jesus today?

HELPING HANDS PRAYER: At Jesus' birth, O God of mystery, the angels sang of peace, but he would long for the baptism of the passion. Surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses, we look to Jesus, the pioneer and perfecter of our faith. Let us be consumed in the fire he kindles, and immersed in the baptism of his death, that he may remember us when he comes into his kingdom. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God for ever and ever. Amen.

WHOLE COMMUNITY CATECHESIS

OUR CHURCH
AND WE NEED THE

Our Catholic Faith asks our students to do service to help them realize and teach them the meaning of helping others, whether it is family, community or our church. But we as adults and youth are called to be of service to our church. These past two weeks have shown us what being of service to our church means through the Frenchtown Ham or Chicken Dinner and the Family Society's food booth at the Cochranon Community Fair. Both of these fund raisers help us to keep our parish financially alive. So thank you all for your contribution to this service no matter how small of a job you helped with. We will be asking for helpers soon for the Parish Reverse Raffle on November 5th. You can do your service by donating pies or desserts for the meal, gifts for the loser prizes, large gifts for the side raffles, or working one of the many positions that need filled, or advertising or collecting donations from local businesses.

As a member of the Parish we are called to be volunteers, not spectators. We need each other to be an active Parish. Yes, this takes sacrifice and in helping each other we become a vibrant Parish. By contributing we are following Gods instructions as can be found in many scripture passages, such as: Luke 20:35, 1 Peter 4:10-11, Galatians 5:13-14, Matthew 20:28 or 25:35-40. In James 2:14-15 we hear: "What good is it my brothers and sisters if you have faith but do not have good works? Can your faith save you?"

Thank you to all of our volunteers no matter how large or small your contribution.

Solemnity of the Assumption

The Catholic Church believes that Mary, the mother of Jesus, was assumed body and soul into heaven at the end of her life. We believe in the resurrection of bodies that decay after death; Mary needed no resurrection of the body because hers was preserved from corruption. She was assumed into heaven.

This belief is a counterpart to the Catholic belief in the Immaculate Conception. To prepare a womb for the coming of the Word Made Flesh, God preserved Mary from all sin from the moment of her conception. Mary did not experience any sin—including original sin, which leads to further sin and death. Hence, sinless (immaculate) Mary also did not experience death as other mortals do. She was assumed into heaven.

The Preface for this day was composed after the Second Vatican Council. It includes these ideas about Mary, as well as this idea about the Church: We are a pilgrim people. This image had been enshrined in the council's Dogmatic Constitution on the Church. The entire Church makes a pilgrimage toward heaven. Mary, who achieved this goal, is a sign of hope and comfort for everyone else along the way. She is the beginning and the image of the Church as it comes to perfection.

The Mass for the Solemnity of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary is celebrated in the evening of August 14 and anytime during the day on August 15. When this solemnity falls on a Sunday, it replaces the prayers and readings of Ordinary Time. August 15 is a holyday of obligation in the United States of America, except in those years when it falls on a Saturday or a Monday. This allows those responsible for preparing Sunday worship to relax a bit more.

Deacons

WHEN DEACONS first appeared in our sanctuaries in the late 1960s, it seemed like another new-fangled idea. Actually, it's a rather old-fangled idea that originated only a few years after Jesus died. You can find their story in Acts of the Apostles 6, where a racial dispute over unequal food rations for women convinced the apostles there had to be a better way to do business. By the time Paul wrote to Timothy and Titus, deacons were firmly established.

Deacons have three missions: charitable works, preaching the Gospel, and assisting in the liturgy. It's been that way from the beginning.

In the early Church, the deacons instructed the faithful when to sit, stand, kneel, and leave. Because they assisted with Baptisms when candidates came naked to the font, deaconesses helped the women catechumens. In time, deacons wore two vestments of liturgical colors: a stole worn diagonally and an exterior garment called a dalmatic—very much like the chasuble, the large outer vestment of the priest, but with sleeves.

Through centuries of clericalism, the office of deacon fell into disuse except for those pursuing priesthood. But they still assisted at the liturgy.

We see this today, when deacons assist at the liturgy giving instructions to the assembly. For example, at the Good Friday liturgy a deacon (or lay minister) sings out, "Flectamus genua," waits a few moments, and then sings, "Levate" as part of the Universal Prayer. That's a quintessential deacon job: Tell people when to kneel and when to stand.

Today, of course, we're familiar with deacons who proclaim the Gospel, instruct us to offer the Sign of Peace, and dismiss us from the service. They preach, baptize, witness marriage, bless people and articles, bury the dead, and use the same liturgical greeting (e.g., "The Lord be with you.") as the priest. The difference is that these guys are not on their way to becoming priests. Their call is to be deacons.

At Mass, the priest invites us to prayer ("Let us pray.") The deacon invites us to action ("Let us offer each other the sign of peace.") How dramatic then that the deacon proclaims the Gospel. He's not just reading a story—he's giving us instructions on what to do next. He invites us to live the Gospel we hear.

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

The Catholic Church in Latin America is more than ever facing challenges in the work of evangelization. Shortages of resources and pastoral workers, as well as poor infrastructure make simple things like attending weekly Mass difficult for many. As members of the same family of faith, we are called to help our sisters and brothers in Latin America and the Caribbean.

The Collection for the Church in Latin America, scheduled to take place in our Diocese on the weekend of August 21-22, is one way to support them. Your participation in this collection is a meaningful and practical expression of solidarity with people in these regions. The proceeds are used in dioceses, parishes, religious congregations, seminaries and other Catholic institutions. The collection also assists in the formation of priests, religious, lay ministers, missionaries, catechists and youth ministers.

Please be generous toward this collection. Take this opportunity to share your faith with our sisters and brothers in need. Your financial support, and just as importantly, your prayers, will truly make a difference.

For more information on the Church in Latin America, and the many projects funded by the collection, please visit www.usccb.org/latin-america.

Be assured of my own prayers for you and your family,

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+Lawrence T. Persico
